6th Sunday in Ordinary Time

February 16, 2025

Last Sunday we heard Jesus call Peter to be his disciple. Jesus then travels with Peter and the other disciples. Luke reports acts of healing (a person with leprosy and a paralytic man) and the call of Levi, the tax collector. Jesus also replies to questions from the Pharisees regarding fasting and the observance of the Sabbath. In the verses immediately before today's gospel reading, Jesus is reported to have chosen 12 men from among his disciples to be apostles. Apostle is a Greek word that means "one who is sent."

Today's gospel reading is the beginning of what is often called the Sermon on the Plain. We find a parallel to this passage in Matthew 5:1-7,11 that is often called the Sermon on the Mount. As these titles suggest, there are differences and similarities between these gospel readings.

When spoken from the mountaintop in Matthew's Gospel, we can't miss the impression that Jesus is speaking with the authority and voice of God. The mountaintop is a symbol of closeness to God. Those who ascend the mountain see God and speak for God; recall the story of Moses and the Ten Commandments. As Luke introduces the location of Jesus' teaching, Jesus teaches on level ground, alongside the disciples and the crowd. Luke presents Jesus' authority in a different light. He is God among us.

Another distinction found in Luke's version is the audience. Luke's Sermon on the Plain is addressed to Jesus' disciples, although in the presence of the crowd; Matthew's Sermon on the Mount is addressed to the crowd. In keeping with this style, the Beatitudes in Luke's Gospel sound more personal than those in Matthew's Gospel— Luke uses the article "you" whereas Matthew uses “they” or “those.” There is also a difference in number: Matthew describes eight beatitudes; Luke presents just four, each of which has a parallel warning.

The form of the Beatitudes found in Luke's and Matthew's Gospel is not unique to Jesus. Beatitudes are found in the Old Testament, such as in the Psalms and in Wisdom literature. They are a way to teach about who will find favor with God. The word blessed in this context might be translated as “happy,” “fortunate,” or “favored.”

As we listen to this Gospel, the Beatitudes jar our sensibilities. Those who are poor, hungry, weeping, or persecuted are called blessed. This is, indeed, a Gospel of reversals. Those often thought to have been forgotten by God are called blessed. In the list of “woes,” those whom we might ordinarily describe as blessed by God are warned about their peril. Riches, possessions, laughter, reputation . . . these are not things that we can depend upon as sources of eternal happiness. They not only fail to deliver on their promise; our misplaced trust in them will lead to our demise. The ultimate peril is in misidentifying the source of our eternal happiness.

The Beatitudes are often described as a framework for Christian living. Our vocation as Christians is not to be first in this world, but rather to be first in the eyes of God. We are challenged to examine our present situation in the context of our ultimate horizon, the Kingdom of God.

Parish Social Ministry

Thank you to Mrs. S's religious ed class for their donations to the pantry. Ryan, Aidan, Anthony B. Jayden, Michaela, Kyle, Liana, Kayden, Adrianna, Anthony S, Chris, Emma and Valeska.

As always we want to thank everyone for their continued generosity to Parish Social Ministry.

Each year Tom Donnelly writes a Suffolk County Grant for us to help us in our effort for Social Justice in our community. Also, Tony Manetta our Town of Babylon Councilman is a wonderful support for us. If you get a chance to meet them please express your gratitude for the help they extend to the Parish. We wish we could single out every single person who helps us because every single donation and prayer is wanted and needed.

We still need volunteers who speak Spanish both in the pantry and in the office. If anyone would like to volunteer to teach us Spanish it would be mostly conversation to ask questions for certification and to find out what their needs are. We are able to translate documents into text for bilingual use so it is not too necessary to read and write it. Our clients work very hard at learning English which I find admirable. English is difficult. I would like to reciprocate by at least being able to converse rudimentarily.

Mrs. S's Religious Education Class had a food donation project for our pantry. We would like to thank her and her students, Ryan, Aiden, Anthony B., Jayden, Michaela, Kyle, Liana, Kayden, Adrianna, Anthony S., Chris, Emma and Valeska.

Cub Scout Pack 112 from North Babylon had a food drive that was also a great help. We want to thank all the parents and the Scout Masters for helping the boys put it together. These young boys made a terrific effort in developing and implementing the food drive. Today is Scout Sunday and many of the Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts who are members of Ss. Cyril & Methodius will most likely be at the 9:30 Mass. If you see them thank them.
